Also in the latest new to range list are: a complete exhaust system for the Citroen C3 1.0 from 2012 onwards, as well as recent models of the Seat Ibiza and Volkswagen Polo 1.0. New DPFs in range include items for the 2016 forwards Seat Ateca 2.0 and the budget hero Dacia Duster 1.5 dCi for 2013 models onwards. New catalytic converters for the 2007-2013 Mazda 6 Tamura are also in there too.

Klarius already offers parts to fit 24 million vehicles on UK roads, and the range is still growing, with well over 200 new parts released just over the last 12 months. There's also a product specific mounting kit available for every product.

Quality is backed-up by a Fit First Time guarantee and 2-year standard warranty across the range and either meet or exceed the performance of the original equipment manufacturer (OEM) item. All applicable products are type-approved, which is independently assessed by the Vehicle Certification Agency (VCA) and TÜV.

There is total availability across the range thanks to dynamic stocking, demand driven manufacturing and large warehouse capacity. As a result, whether customers need an exhaust for a classic car or a DPF for a modern diesel, the lead time will be the same.

In-house logistics operation, AutoLogistiks, provides reliable next day delivery to all Klarius stockists and distributors across the UK.
