

Clio versus Fiesta, it's an exhausting debate!

10 March 2023

Klarius Products has recently updated its product catalogue with new parts for perennial rivals the Ford Fiesta and Renault Clio, these include a full exhaust system for the (2012-13) Fiesta and catalytic converters for the popular Clio (2012). But which of these hatchbacks from a decade ago is more popular?

Ford has been producing the Fiesta for nearly fifty years, yes really – the mark 1 was launched in 1976 and has long-since secured a place in the UK's top-rated hatchback rankings. Including as a full-blown WRC car in recent years.

The French alternative however was indelibly left on the conscience of everyone watching TV at the time when 'Papa' handed the keys of the first Clio to 'Nicole' in the 1990's, and since then has consistently outsold the Fiesta in Europe.

If you have a Fiesta or a Clio from MY 2012 onwards on the ramp and need a quality replacement part, quickly, then you are in luck. Klarius offers a Fit First Time guarantee for all its products, along with a minimum 2-year standard warranty.

With dynamic stocking, demand-driven manufacturing, and expansive UK warehouse capacity, Klarius can maintain a high level of availability with minimal lead times for all customers whether it's a full exhaust system or just a replacement CAT converter for a reliable supermini run-around.

All applicable products are type-approved by the Vehicle Certification Agency (VCA) in the UK and TÜV in Germany, ensuring that they either meet or exceed original equipment manufacturer (OEM) standards.
