

Klarius expands coverage with new parts for Hyundai i30 and more

26 January 2025

Klarius Products has enhanced its range of aftermarket emissions control components, adding 22 new parts this month. This release provides coverage for over 357,000 vehicles in the UK and over 1.85 million across Europe, further strengthening Klarius' commitment to keeping vehicles of all ages running cleanly and efficiently.

This latest update includes components for a range of popular brands, including Audi, BMW, Citroën, Fiat, Kia, Nissan, Peugeot, Skoda, and Volkswagen. Among the key additions is a new exhaust system for the Hyundai i30 (2014-2017) and i30 Wagon 5-door (2014-2017), covering a total of almost 200,000 vehicle across the EU.

The Hyundai i30 has built a reputation as a dependable and stylish hatchback, blending efficiency with practicality. Launched in 2007 as Hyundai's answer to the growing European compact market, the i30 quickly became a hit with drivers seeking a balance of affordability, comfort, and advanced features.

The 2014-2017 generation introduced refined styling, improved fuel efficiency, and a more dynamic driving experience. Whether it's the standard hatchback or the spacious 5-door Wagon, Klarius' latest aftermarket parts ensure i30 owners can maintain their vehicle's performance and emissions compliance.

Fast Facts About the Hyundai i30:

- A European connection: The Hyundai i30 was the first Hyundai model specifically designed for the European market, developed at the company's R&D centre in Rüsselsheim, Germany.
- Number one N: The i30 became the first Hyundai to receive the high-performance 'N' treatment, with the i30 N delivering a hot hatch experience.
- Global name game: While known as the i30 in Europe, the same model was marketed as the Elantra Touring in North America and the Avante Touring in South Korea.

With over 11,000 parts in its catalogue and next-day delivery available for orders placed before 5:30 PM, Klarius remains the trusted choice for high-quality emissions control components. Whether for the Hyundai i30 or other popular models, Klarius ensures that drivers across the UK and Europe can rely on durable, high-performance parts designed to meet or exceed original equipment standards.
